Gratitude is good medicine

A regular gratitude practice can make you healthier and lead to:

- Better mood
- Better sleep
- Lower blood pressure
- Improved immune function

“I don’t know what to be grateful for!”

It doesn’t have to be Thanksgiving-level to count. Focus on anything simple like:

“…For the clouds”
“…For my heart that keeps beating”
“…For my friend”
“…For this sandwich”
“…For this day”

Pair it up
Do your gratitude right after something else you do every day, such as brushing your teeth or eating lunch. This makes the habit stick.

Soak it in
Savor those grateful feelings and feel good about yourself. If you enjoy your new habit, you’re more likely to stick with it!

Jot it down
Grab some paper or a notebook you already have, nothing fancy. Then, write down anything you feel grateful for.

Repeat daily to build a habit!
